The Commons, Plant Breeding and Agricultural Research

Challenges for Food Security and Agrobiodiversity

Edited by Fabien Girard, Université Grenoble-Alpes, France and Christine Frison, Université catholique de Louvain, Belgium

Series: Earthscan Food and Agriculture

The joint challenges of population increase, food security and conservation of agrobiodiversity demand a rethink of plant breeding and agricultural research from a different perspective. This book shows how social sciences, and more especially law, can contribute towards reconfiguring current legal frameworks in order to achieving a better balance between the requirements of agricultural innovation and for access to genetic resources and protection of agrobiodiversity. It demonstrates the relevance of the "Commons" for plant breeding and agricultural innovation.
